

THE POINTS MADE
AGAINST THE LAWSUPREME COURT'S OPINION ON INCOME TAX.

Why the Measure Was Declared Unconstitutional—Justices Jackson, Harlan White, and Brown Were For the Law and Fuller, Field, Gray, Brewer and Shiras Against It.

Washington, D. C., May 21.—The supreme court of the United States declared the income tax law to be unconstitutional.

The vote on the income tax resulted: Five against the constitutionality of the law to four for the law. Those against the law were Chief Justice Fuller and Justices Field, Gray, Brewer and Shiras; for the law, Justices Harlan, White, Brown and Jackson.

Chief Justice Fuller read the opinion and the conclusions of the court are as follows:

"I. We adhere to the opinion already announced that taxes on real estate being indisputably direct taxes, taxes on the rents or income of real estate are equally direct taxes.

"2. We are of the opinion that taxes on personal property or on the income of personal property are likewise direct taxes.

"3. The tax imposed by sections 27 to 37 inclusive, of the act of 1894, so far as it falls on the income of real estate and on personal property, being a direct tax within the meaning of the constitution, is therefore unconstitutional and void, because not apportioned according to representation, all those sections constituting one entire scheme of taxation are necessarily invalid.

"The decrees heretofore entered in this court will be vacated. The decrees below will be reversed and the cases remanded with instructions to grant the relief prayed."

Sections 27 to 37 of the tariff act of 1894 referred to in the conclusions of the court in the opinions are all the sections of the act relating to the income tax, so that the entire income tax law is declared void specifically.

There was the usual throng of people about the United States supreme court room in anticipation of a final decision of the income tax cases, the chamber being crowded for quite a time before the court convened at noon. While there were other cases under consideration in the conference, the income tax cases received the principal share of the attention of the members of the court. The presence of Justice Jackson caused a great deal of speculation and was the basis for much gossip as to the possibility of some sort of surprise for the public. The chief justice immediately began the delivery of the main opinion in the case.

Chief Justice Fuller delivered the opinion, which is in part as follows:

"Whenever this court is required to pass upon the validity of an act of congress as tested by the fundamental law enacted by the people the duty imposed demands in its discharge the utmost deliberation and care and invokes the deepest sense of responsibility. And this is especially so when the question involves the exercise of a great governmental power and brings into consideration, as vitally affected by the decision, that complex system of government, so sagaciously framed to secure and perpetuate an indestructible union, composed of indestructible states.

"As heretofore stated, the constitution divided federal taxation into two great classes, the class of direct taxes and the class of duties, imposts and excises, and prescribed two rules which qualified the grant of power as to each class. The power to lay direct taxes, apportioned to their representation in the popular branch of congress, as a representation based on population as ascertained by the census, was plenary and absolute, but to lay direct taxes without apportionment was forbidden. The power to lay duties, imposts and excises was subject to the qualification that the imposition must be uniform throughout the United States.

"Our previous decision was confined to the consideration of the validity of the tax on the income from real estate and on the income from municipal bonds. The question thus limited was whether such taxation was direct or not, in the meaning of the constitution, and the court went no farther as to the tax on the incomes from real estate than to hold that it fell within the same class as the source whence the income was derived—that is, that a tax upon the reality and a tax upon the receipts therefrom were alike direct; while as to the income from municipal bonds, that could not be taxed, because of want of power to tax the source and no reference was made to the nature of the tax as being direct or indirect.

"We are now permitted to broaden the field of inquiry and determine to which of the two great classes, a tax upon a person's entire income, whether derived from rents or products or otherwise of real estate, or from bonds, stocks or other forms of personal property, belongs, and we are unable to conclude that the enforced subtraction from the yield of all the owners' real or personal property, in the manner prescribed, is so different from a tax upon the property itself, that it is not a direct but an indirect tax in the meaning of the constitution.

"We know of no reason for holding otherwise than that the words 'direct taxes' on the one hand, and 'duties, imposts and excises' on the other were used in the constitution in their natural and obvious senses, nor in arriving at what those terms embrace do we perceive any ground for enlarging them beyond or narrowing them within their natural and obvious import, and the time the constitution was framed and ratified. Passing from the text, we regard the conclusion reached as inevitable, when the circumstances which surrounded the convention and controlled its action and the views of those who framed and those who adopted the constitution are considered."

The chief justice next discussed the reasons for the constitutional provisions regarding direct taxation. The states had plenary powers of taxation, he said, but gave up the great sources of revenue derived from commerce and retained the power of levying taxes and duties covering anything other than excises, but in respect to them the range of taxation was narrowed by the power granted to the federal government over interstate commerce. While they granted the power of apportioning direct taxation they secured to the states the opportunity to pay the amount apportioned and to recoup from their own citizens in the most feasible way. The founders anticipated that the expenses of the federal government would chiefly be met by indirect taxation. They knew that the power to tax involved the power to destroy.

The opinion continued, "It is said that a tax on the whole income of property is not a direct tax, but a duty. We do not think so. Direct taxation was not restricted in one breath and the restriction blown to the winds in another." The Federalist was then quoted from to show that Hamilton considered all internal taxes, except duties and excises on articles of consumption, to be direct taxes. The opinion next took up the argument that a tax on property is not a direct tax within the meaning of the constitution, and on this point it says: "The constitution prohibits any direct tax unless in proportion in numbers as ascertained by the census; and in the light of the circumstances to which we have referred, is it not an evasion of that prohibition to hold that a general unapportioned tax imposed upon all property-owners as a body for or in respect of their property is not direct in the meaning of the constitution, because confined to the income therefrom? Nor can we conceive any ground why the same reasoning does not apply to capital in personally for the purpose of income or ordinarily yielding income, and to the income therefrom. All the real estate of the country and all its invested personal property are open to the direct operation of the taxing power if an apportionment be made according to the constitution. The constitution does not say that no direct tax shall be laid by apportionment on any property than land. On the contrary, it forbids all unapportioned direct taxes; and we know of no warrant for excepting personal property from the exercise of the power, or any reason why an apportioned direct tax cannot be laid and assessed, as Mr. Gallatin said in his report when secretary of the treasury in 1812, 'upon the same objects of taxation on which the direct taxes levied under the authority of the state are laid and assessed.'

The stress of argument is thrown, however, on the assertion that an income tax is not a property tax at all; that it is not a real estate tax nor a crop tax nor a bond tax; that it is an assessment upon the taxpayer on account of his money-spending power, as shown by his revenue for the year preceding the assessment; that rents received, crops harvested, interest collected, although once not taxable, have become transmuted in their near form into taxable matter; in other words, that income is taxable irrespective of the source from whence it is derived."

JUSTICES DISSENT.

Washington, May 21.—The chief justice was immediately followed by Justice Harlan in a dissenting opinion. Justice Jackson at 1:45 began the delivery of a dissenting opinion. He concurred fully in the opinion expressed by Justice White at the former hearing of the case.

Justice Jackson finished at 2:30, and was followed by Justice Brown, who also delivered a dissenting opinion.

He held to the doctrine of stare decisis. Even a century of error, he said, may be pregnant with less evil to the state than a newly discovered truth.

Justice White followed Justice Brown, re-enunciating the opinions expressed by him when the case was first decided.

TAYLOR IS GUILTY
THE LAW DECIDES

OSCAR WILDE'S CO-DEFENDANT IS CONVICTED.

Sentence Is Deferred—Dynamite Egan Is Set at Liberty—Chinese Officials Called From the Island of Formosa—Lord Rosebery Said to Have Resigned—Other Cable News.

London, May 21.—The jury that tried Alfred Taylor, who was the co-defendant with Oscar Wilde, returned a verdict of guilty today, but sentence was postponed.

London, May 21.—J. F. Egan, the dynamiter was released today.

Peking, May 21.—The emperor has issued an order recalling from the island of Formosa, ceded to Japan by treaty, all Chinese officials.

LORD ROSEBERY.

London, May 21.—Wild rumors were in circulation in the lobby of the House of Commons last night to the effect that Prime Minister Lord Rosebery had resigned, or was about to resign, that a dissolution of parliament was impending, and that it would probably take place next month. No confirmation of these rumors could be obtained. It is said that the rumors that the Prime Minister has resigned, or was about to resign, originated in the post-ponement of the Queen's departure for Scotland, which is explained by the desire of her Majesty to receive the son of the Amir of Afghanistan before leaving the city.

SCARE OVER AT FLORENCE.

Earthquake Panic Ends and People Return to Their Homes.

Florence, May 21.—After a period of panic, following the two severe earthquake shocks of Saturday last, the inhabitants of this city and neighborhood are returning to their dwellings, apparently satisfied that there is no longer any danger. The villages in the vicinity of this city have suffered more severely than was at first reported, though the damage done is principally in the shape of badly shaken houses. But days must elapse before a definite estimate of the damage done can be made. Tents have been erected and the army commissariat corps has been called upon to furnish provisions for those in need of such succor. The efforts of the military have been ably seconded by those of the municipal authorities.

Eighteen Firemen Injured.

Havana, May 21.—Fire broke out at 3 o'clock yesterday in the tobacco and cigar factory known as Flor de Fumar, which contained a large amount of stock belonging to Estanillo. Before the flames were under control damage estimated to the amount of $150,000 was done. While fighting fire eighteen firemen were injured, two of whom will die. Two hundred persons have been thrown out of work by the destruction of the factory. The conflagration is believed to have been of incendiary origin. The factory and stock were not insured.

CONSERVATIVES WIN.

Presbyterian Church General Assembly to Control Seminaries.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 21.—By a vote of 432 to 98 the report of the committee on seminary control was accepted by the Presbyterian general assembly yesterday. Some slight changes were made but the accepted report is virtually as the anti-Briggs people drafted it.

The debate was cut short and the matter was rushed to a vote. It went through with a whoop, amid great excitement. Dr. William O. Thompson, president of the Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, was the first speaker yesterday. He was against the adoption of the report. Among those who took part in the debate was Rev. Dr. Andrew C. Zenos, a native Greek, of the McCormick Seminary, Chicago. He spoke and voted against accepting the report of the committee.

Their great success promises to embolden the conservatives for drastic measures against the students of Union Seminary. The vote yesterday was a declaration of war to the knife and the only end will be surrender or secession. A fraternal letter was sent to the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church at Dallas, Texas.

W. H. Harvey Challenged.

Chicago, May 21.—Mr. W. H. Harvey, author of "Coin's Financial School," was yesterday challenged to meet in joint discussion Roswell G. Horr, of New York. Mr. Harvey said he would take the matter under consideration and return an answer in a day or two.

Gail Hamilton Slowly Sinking.

Washington, May 21.—Miss Mary Abigail Dodge (Gail Hamilton) appears to be sinking slowly and her friends have about given up hope of her rallying.

KENOSHA LAWYER IS SET AT LIBERTY.

Discharged This Morning on the Claim That He Was Not Indicted at Chicago and Cannot Therefore Be Extradited—Crazy Hortonville Farmer Seizes the Home lost at Law

Kenosha, May 21.—[Special]—Walter Marshall Cowell, who was accused of forgery and swindling in a Chicago land case was this morning discharged from custody on the charge that the grand jury failed to indict him, and he, therefore, could not be extradited by the Illinois authorities.

Hortonville, May 21.—[Special]—William Seitske, formerly a wealthy farmer who lost his all through law suits and then became partially insane, took forcible possession of his old house and held it all day but was finally overpowered and arrested. He was held for trial on his examination.

Dodgeville, May 21.—[Special]—The conference of the Primitive Methodist church, rejected the application of Rev. Thomas Kent for admission to the church, although the Mineral Point church had extended him a call.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 21.—Labor Commissioner Erickson through his factory inspectors, is gathering statistics as to the number of children under 14 years of age employed in factories in Wisconsin. Inspector Fisher has canvassed about one-third of the factories of Milwaukee and has found enough such cases to make it certain that several hundred children under the legal age are employed. At Oshkosh, also, many children are found working, mainly in the furniture factories. Prosecutions will follow in a number of cases.

Hudson, Wis., May 21.—Last Thursday, about midnight, some twenty-five men raided the house of Mrs. Dunbar, aged 67, broke in the door, dragged her out of bed, poured tar over her entire naked body, and then rolled her in chaff and sawdust. They then left her. The better citizens of the place look upon the affair as a serious crime, disgraceful to their city and county.

RAILWAY TRAINMEN MEET.

Important Session of the Brotherhood at Galesburg, Ill.

Galesburg, Ill., May 21.—The second biennial session of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen began here yesterday with nearly 600 delegates from all parts of the country in attendance. The report of Grand Secretary Sheehan recommended a graded insurance, with risks of $400, $800 and $1,200. He explained the reasons for the deficit in the general fund and how this could be met through grand dues. In speaking of the loss in membership he charged it to the hard times principally. He sharply criticized the leaders of the A. R. U. and those responsible for the late big railroad strike, which he considered unjust. In the evening a public reception was held at the opera house and was largely attended. Governor Altgeld was present and made a lengthy address to the delegates. He was followed by L. S. Coffin, Grand Master Sargent, of the Firemen's Brotherhood; Mayor Tunnick, George W. Prince, and others. There is a strong effort being made by Milwaukee, Peoria and other cities to have the headquarters of the brotherhood taken from this city, and some big inducements are being held out.

The resignation of Grand Master S. E. Wilkinson, it is understood, will be presented to the convention to-day. Vice Grand Master P. H. Morrissey is spoken of as a possible successor to Mr. Wilkinson. Others who are spoken of as candidates are Al Brown, of Philadelphia, and A. Morrison, of New York.

WHEAT STILL GOING UP.

Impossible to Hold the Price Down at Chicago.

Chicago, May 21.—Wheat is still booming. Yesterday the start was made at the closing prices of Saturday, and by fitful, nervous starts, interrupted by slight relapses, the price jumped to 74½c in little more than an hour of active trading. Corn, however, was not able to keep this fast company, although the advance of last Saturday was re-established, and after a rise to 54½c for July delivery and 55½c for September over the prices at closing there was an advance to 55c for July and 56c for September. But in other lines the fever was felt. Pork, which jumped to $12.55 Saturday, kept up its pace and reached $13.

Foreign cables showed an advance of a penny at Liverpool, but a decline and an easier market in Paris and other continental markets. The country speculators seemed not to care a copper what Liverpool or Paris was doing. They wanted wheat in Peconia and everywhere else, and they sent to Chicago to buy it. Then the price went up again. May closed at 72½c, July and September 73½c. Corn closed at 53c May, 53½c July, 54½c September.

TO MAKE REBATES.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Miller Explains.

Washington, May 21.—"Up to date we have collected between $70,000 and $80,000 on account of the income tax," remarked Commissioner of Internal Revenue Miller, "every cent of which must be returned to the persons who paid these assessments. No legislation by congress will be necessary, for under the law the commissioner of internal revenue, subject to regulations prescribed by the secretary of the treasury, is authorized on appeal made to him to pay back all taxes erroneously or illegally assessed or collected, all penalties collected without authority, and all taxes that appear to be unjustly assessed or excessive in amount, or in any manner wrongfully collected. There is a regular form provided for these refunds; all that is required of a claimant being a plain statement of facts as to tax payments made. I have telegraphed all collectors of internal revenue to forward at once to this office all income tax returns and everything else pertaining to the tax."

FOR "SOUND" MONEY.

Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle Opens the Campaign.

Covington, Ky., May 21.—The secretary of the United States treasury, Jno. G. Carlisle, opened the discussion of the question of "sound" money here last night. Mr. Carlisle began his speech by giving a review of the administration of the government since Mr. Cleveland began his first term. He then plunged directly into the silver question, first giving a review of the coinage legislation to show that there was nothing surreptitious in the demonetization act of 1873. He said silver is not demonetized in this country, but its coinage has been so limited and regulated by law and the financial affairs of the government have been so conducted that up to the present time its purchasing power has been preserved and its circulation to a large amount has been maintained concurrently with other forms of money, notwithstanding it has been coined at a ratio which does not conform to the real value of the metal contained in it. He said the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 would drive out gold and simply mean silver monometallism, and cut down the unit of value about one-half.

Mr. Carlisle contended that a drop to a silver basis would not advance prices at once, owing to the contraction of the currency by the withdrawal of gold, which would alarm the country, destroy credit, and precipitate a panic. Who would profit by this condition of affairs? he asked. Nobody except the holders of gold and the owners of silver mines, the holders of silver bullion, and the brokers and speculators in the stocks of silver mining companies.

Mr. Carlisle's next point was that, under free coinage at 16 to 1, wages would be paid in the debased dollars and that no man would live long enough to see wages increased in proportion to the advance in the prices of commodities.

Finally, Mr. Carlisle frankly said that when he voted for silver in 1873 the conditions were different from now, and that at that time he made a mistake.

LABOR TROUBLES IN MANY PLACES.

Small Riot at Cleveland, Ohio.

Cleveland, O., May 21.—One hundred and twenty-three lumber shovels went to the Cleveland Saw Mill and Lumber company's dock yesterday morning, armed with clubs and stones, to prevent the lumber steamer Gettysburg from being unloaded by non-union men. Frank Wentz, an employee of the mill, was mistaken for a non-union man and unmercifully clubbed. He was removed to a hospital in an unconscious condition. When the police arrived the mob had disappeared.

Arm Their Workmen.

St. Louis, Mo., May 21.—To prevent interference with their existing building contracts by strikers who assault non-union hodcarriers, it is announced by the boss bricklayers that their men have been armed with revolvers, with instructions to use them, if necessary. Trouble is feared.

Will Fight Over Silver.

Ottumwa, Ia., May 21.—Fifty delegates are attending the annual meeting of the labor federation in this city. The sensation of yesterday was the refusal to accept the credentials of representatives of the Jerome miners who have worked below the scale. There will be a fight on free silver to-day.

Joliet Mill Starts Up.

Joliet, Ill., May 21.—The rod mill of the Illinois Steel Company started up yesterday. All the old men went back at the old scale of wages. The officials can get all the men they want in all the departments, and no trouble is anticipated.

Strike Ended at Bellaire, Ohio.

Bellaire, O., May 21.—The strike at the steel works was ended by the company's withdrawing the demand for a reduction, and 200 men will resume labor.

Voluntarily Raise Wages.

Baltimore, Md., May 21.—The Henry McShane Manufacturing Company has voluntarily raised the wages of its 1,000 employees 10 per cent.

Important Iron 'Hall' Order.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 21.—An order of large importance to the Iron Hall claims all over the country was issued by Judge McMahers, of the Superior Court, yesterday. The court directed that June 10 be fixed as the final date on or before which all branches of the order must complete their accounting with the receiver here, and all claims for allowance must be filed under penalty of branches or individuals failing to comply with the order being shut out from all future benefits arising from the payment of final dividends.

Town of Agram Submerged.

Vienna, May 21.—The heavy rains which have prevailed for the last few days caused the River Save to rise to a height sufficient to burst the dike near the town of Agram, which, together with a wide tract of territory, is submerged. The flood has totally destroyed the crops in the inundated district and the damage to other property is very great.

Bad Blaze in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., May 21.—Fire at midnight last night gutted the four-story building occupied by the Imperial Tea company and practically ruined its stock. Loss, $20,000; insurance, $12,000.

BAD BANK CASHIER
CAUGHT IN MEXICOJ. G. THOMPSON, OF SEDALIA, RUN TO EARTH.

City of Mexico Police Put Him Behind the Bars—Nine Prisoners Escape From Jail—Bengel Died From His Wounds—Hayward to Die June 21—Criminal News.

City of Mexico, May 21.—James G. Thompson, the defaulting cashier of the Sedalia, Missouri, bank, has been arrested here.

Nine Prisoners Break Jail.

Hamilton, Ohio, May 21.—Nine prisoners, headed by a man named Husted, just released from prison at Jeffersonville, Ind., and under sentence here to two years in the Ohio penitentiary, broke jail yesterday. John Connors, a United States prisoner, was one of those who escaped. Six were recaptured, including Husted, who nearly cut off Officer Concanon's right arm when the latter arrested him. They tied blankets together and let themselves down from a third-story window.

Dies from His Wound.

Freeport, Ill., May 21.—Charles Bengel, who was shot Sunday afternoon by Saloon-keeper Frank W. Harris, died at the hospital yesterday at 12:30 o'clock. Harris' relatives have employed attorneys to defend him, and the plea of the defense will be insanity.

Hayward to Die June 21.

St. Paul, May 21.—Gov. Clough has signed the death warrant for Harry Hayward, convicted of inciting and planning the murder of Catherine Gling in Minneapolis. The governor sets the execution for June 21.

Drowns His Wife.

Grant's Pass, Ore., May 21.—Charles A. Lester, a teamster, threw his wife into a pool of water and held her head under until she was drowned. Three of his small children were standing near and witnessed the act.

The scheduled games between the Cleveland and Brooklyn, the Louisville and Baltimore, the Cincinnati and Boston, and St. Louis and New York were postponed as rain had made the grounds unfit to play upon. Games to-day: Philadelphia at Chicago; Baltimore at Louisville; New York at St. Louis; Washington at Pittsburg; Boston at Cincinnati; Brooklyn at Cleveland.

Inter-State Baseball Report.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 21.—Anderson having declined to take Lafayette's place in the Western Interstate League and other cities which were asked to come in having made unfavorable response it is proposed to play with a five club league until Decoration Day, when, if a sixth club cannot be secured, the league will be abandoned. The Terre Haute club will be kept together during the season to play exhibition games at home and in other cities.

PEACE IN MANITOBA.

School Question Settled Through Lord Aberdeen.

Montreal, Que., May 21.—The Manitoba school question, which at one time threatened open disruption between the Catholics and Protestants, is virtually settled through the good offices of Lord Aberdeen. The preliminaries will no doubt be approved of at a meeting next week, at which Premier Greenway and Attorney General Sifton, of Manitoba, will be present. The plan is for the Manitoba government to amend the school law providing for Catholic schools with the same curriculum as public schools, but with the addition of half an hour's Catholic religious instruction, three men to be selected by the clergy to form a Catholic school board. The remedial order will be withdrawn.

German Bimetallists Active.

Berlin, May 21.—The lower house of the Prussian diet yesterday debated Count von Mirbach's motion in connection with bimetalism. Herr Aren complained of the dilatoriness of the government in effecting the promises of the chancellor. The object of the bimetalists, he said, was to raise, and still more, to fix the price of silver, but international regulation of the currency question without international bimetalism was impossible. Silver must not be subjected to speculation. He only wished for bimetalism.

In Memory of Stockbridge.

Lansing, Mich., May 21.—The house yesterday passed bills providing a ½ cent per capita tax for support of the Michigan naval brigade; providing that surety companies may be sureties upon the bonds of state officers, and providing for warehousemen's liens. A joint memorial service was held in honor of the memory of the late Senator Francis B. Stockbridge. Gov. Rich appointed a commission to arrange for the erection of a statue to ex-Governor Blair in the state capitol grounds.

Seven Stores Burn.

Bennettsville, S. C., May 20.—Seven stores burned here last night with a loss of $75,000.

THE ROUTINE GRIND OF THE CITY'S MILL

COUNCIL HAD LITTLE NEW BUSINESS LAST NIGHT.

Repairs Milwaukee Street Bridge—
Substitute For the Charter Change
Ordinance—Money To Be Borrowed
—Sarah Street and Fifth Avenue
Grades—The Reports Submitted.

While the council considered much routine business last evening, there were only a few measures of general interest brought forward. Milwaukee street bridge is to be repaired after plans and specifications are prepared by the city engineer, the work to be done by contract; Alderman Burnham's ordinance relating to the adoption of a portion of the uniform charter law was withdrawn, and a new ordinance, more fully establishing its intent, was substituted. Expert Card's report of his examination of the city treasurer's books from April 17, 1894, to May 1, 1895 was presented and referred to the judiciary committee. While the report was not read, it is reported that the books were found substantially correct; that while one or two errors were found, the balances were in favor of the city. Mayor Baines was directed to borrow $2,500 for the fire and water fund to meet the semi-annual payment of water rent due June 1, and also $1500 for the gas fund.

All the members of the council were present. After reading the journal and its approval, the specifications for the grade of Fifth avenue were presented and referred to the highway, street and bridge committee, the appointment by the mayor of M. J. Conroy, as special police, without pay from the city, for three months from May 21, was read, and on motion of Alderman Smith the appointment was confirmed, the profile with specification for the grade of Sarah street were presented by the city engineer, referred to the highway committee and subsequently approved and placed on file.

The Reports Made.

The petition of J. H. Snyder, for the transfer of his license at the Highland House to E. D. Phillips, was presented, and after investigation by the license and judiciary committees, was granted.

The report of the street commissioner in relation to the condition of Jackson street bridge, was referred to the highway, street and bridge committee.

The mayor presented the report of Expert Accountant Card, relating to the auditing of the city treasurer's accounts from April 17, 1894, to May 1, 1895. Referred to the judiciary committee.

Alderman Heddles, of the finance committee, reported in favor of allowing sundry bills against the several funds, which were concurred in.

Alderman McLean stated that City Treasurer Fathers desired a railing placed around his desk in the city treasurer's office, to prevent people from becoming too familiar in crowding around his books and papers; the treasurer had investigated the matter and thought the expense would not exceed $30. Alderman McLean stated that repairs about the building were usually left with the fire and water committee, and, on his motion, this matter was placed in the committee's hands.

The Fifth Avenue Grade.

Alderman Hemming, of the highway, street and bridge committee, moved that the specifications for the grade of Fifth avenue be adopted and placed on file. Adopted. Also, that the city engineer be directed to prepare plans and specifications for the repair of Milwaukee street bridge; and that when so prepared the city clerk be directed to advertise for bids for doing the work. Adopted.

The committee was given further time to consider the matter of repairing Jackson street bridge.

The following orders were adopted: By Alderman Winslow—authorizing the park committee to hire J. C. Hill for six months at $40 per month, to care for the parks.

By Alderman Heddles—Allowing J. C. Card $175.05, for service in auditing city accounts. Also directing the city treasurer to transfer the sum of $560 from the municipal court fund to the general fund.

By Alderman Smith—Directing the mayor to borrow $1,500 on the credit of the gas fund.

To Clean Up Streets.

By Alderman Burnham—To remove the loose stones from the streets in the Second ward. Also, directing the city engineer to prepare profiles and grade of Walker street from Milton avenue to the Northwestern railway tracks.

By Alderman Kotham—for the repair of South River street between Holmes and Rock street.

By Alderman Inman—Giving Gilbert Evenson permission to use a portion of Milton avenue for storing building material while building his new house.

By Alderman McLean—for the repair of Pine street and Western avenue.

Also to repair crosswalks on Milwaukee street across Pleasant. Also that Palm, Pine and Center streets in Smith's addition, be declared public highways.

Also, that the mayor be directed to borrow on the credit of the fire and water fund, the sum of $2500, for the payment of the semi-annual water rent, due June 1.

Alderman Hemming—Adopting the profile and grade of Sarah street, and placing same on file.

Charter Ordinance Withdrawn.

Alderman Burnham stated that he desired to withdraw the ordinance introduced at the last meeting relating to the uniform charter, and present a new ordinance in its place. Permission was given the alderman to withdraw, when he sent to the clerk's desk another bearing on the same subject. City Attorney McElroy explained that the first ordinance was drawn in a hurry, and in his opinion did not fully cover all the points intended. The new ordinance, he thought, would be satisfactory. The clerk was directed to publish the ordinance in the official paper once each week for three weeks, and give notice that it would be acted upon at a meeting to be held June 17, after which the council adjourned.

THE NEWS OF THE STATE.

ABOUT a month ago the 3-year-old child of Michael Shelmach, of Arcadia, thrust the point of a knife blade into its eye, and after suffering intense pain from the injury, the child died Friday evening.

A BARABOO hen hatched out a four-legged chick, but it died soon after seeing the light.

POTATOES, fruits and berries in Waushara county, were killed by the frost. Corn and oats were not injured.

GREEN BAY handles something like $200,000 worth of cheese in the course of a year.

BURGLARS visited the Horicon post-office.

Kops Cheer.

In one month in 1894 there was sold in London, England, 5,729,892 bottles of Kops Cheer. It is a pure non-alcoholic, non-fermentive English ale, that is healthful and invigorating. A splendid liquid food and non-alcoholic, non-fermentive, made by the Kops Company, Fulham, London, England, from the Fulham artesian water, to which is added the finest hops and other most wholesome ingredients, thus producing a drink that is unequalled as a thirst quencher, appetizer, and nerve tonic, and is the ideal tonic beverage of the 19th century.

Approvingly spoken of by the late Cardinal Manning and the late Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, who used it at his own table; also the Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst, of New York City. For sale by Ball & Bates.

An O'er True Tale

Is a tale overdone. A harrowing tale is a tale a farmer tells. A sorrowful tale is one told by some of our "first citizens" to their family after trying to ride a bike. A dog's tale—but that is another story, a tale told by a wag.

This tale is still another. We have an overload of real estate and we are going to unload. We offer a nice place, house, barn, well, some nice fruit and nearly three acres of land in the city for $1,400 easy payments, the land alone is worth $1,500 the buildings $1,000.

We offer a nice little home with barn, city water, and other desirable features, in the heart of the city for $1,300.

We offer a good new six room house with very large lot, well located for $1,200.

We are building a very nice home, very central and beautifully located. We will sell it at $250 less than it is worth.

We are building another a little farther out with a good large barn and very large lot, city water both to house and barn, we will sell for $1,700. This is a lovely home for any one.

We have homesites till you can't rest, at prices from $150 up to any price you care to go and any one of them is the best in Janesville for the price.

Homeseekers and investors both always can find at our office just what they want. We are headquarters on real estate of all kinds.

We also have money to loan on real estate, and can please you in this line, too.

Come in and see us when you feel like talking about a deal in our line. Yours very truly,
Geo. L. & Sarah H. Carrington.

The Regina.

The motive force in the "Regina" consists of an extremely solid, and yet in its unique combination, simple clock work. One of the essential features of a good clock work is that all its parts are interchangeable. This being the case we are enabled to supply duplicates of any parts which will be found absolutely true in every instance. We are therefore in a position to furnish our patrons with instruments of the highest standard which with reasonable care will last a lifetime. F. C. Cook & Co.

NEWS OF OLD ROCK CHOPPED UP FINE

WILL GOODRICH OF MILTON, HEARD FROM.

His Relations Had Supposed Him To Be Dead But He Is Alive and Well—Plans For Memorial Day at the College Town—Frost Did Much Damage.

MILTON, May 21—Recently Mrs. Will Davis of Janesville, received a letter from her brother, Will H. Goodrich. He is at Brunswick, Ga., and reports himself in good health. Will has not visited his home in this village for many years and for seven years his relatives have been unable to hear from him, and feared that he was dead. Some of our strawberry growers think the frost killed half their crops and others report but little damage. The following will be the program on Memorial day: The Post and Relief Corps will assemble at Post hall at 1 p. m. and march to the park, where they will be met by the scholars of the graded school, and college students. The parade will move at 1:30 o'clock sharp to the cemetery, where services will be conducted according to the ritual of G. A. R. The Post and Corps will then proceed to Milton Junction, meeting the high school pupils at the school house. Thence to the cemetery, where similar services will be conducted.

The members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. will assemble at their hall Sunday, May 26, at 9:30 a. m., where transportation will be furnished to Milton Junction, to attend Memorial services at the Methodist church at 10:30. The post are also invited to a similar service at the Methodist church in this village on the evening of that day. The ordinance of baptism was administered to five candidates at Clear Lake Saturday afternoon by Rev. E. M. Dunn. Dr. A. O. All n, of Austin, Minn., has been visiting relatives and friends here this week. He has not been here before since 1888. Will Davis and family, of Janesville, spent Saturday with Milton relatives. Dr. E. S. Bailey of the Hahnemann medical college faculty, Chicago, spent Sunday with Milton friends.

The "Miltons" played their first game of the season Friday, their opponents being the Janesville "Lightweights." The visitors were about the same in size and weight as the Miltons and their fielding was much superior to their batting. The home club had on their batting clothes and two and three baggers were not uncommon, but their fielding was not up to the mark. Score:

Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Miltons.....3 3 0 1 2 6 0 4 -19
Lightweights.....0 3 5 2 0 2 1 0 15
Batteries: Rice, Green, Olmstead, Lutz, Mauritz. Bases on balls, Rice 3; struck out, Lutz, 2; Rice 12.

JACK FROST AT INDIAN FORD.

His Visit Makes It Necessary To Replant the Corn.

INDIAN FORD, May 21—Jack Frost did business in the village last week, and as a result several farmers are replanting their corn. Nelson Fredendall and family will visit at Henry Cox's Sunday. Leon Dickerson, of Edgerton, and family, were assisting Ford friends and fishing last Saturday. N. Fredendall made a business trip to Edgerton last Sunday. John Scarelliff, our assessor, has commenced business for the town. Mr. Fredendall went to Janesville for J. C. Hurd on Thursday. Quite a number of Edgerton and Janesville people were seen here fishing the past week or two. Mr. Alverson is kept busy these days sorting tobacco. Mr. Tubbs, who is drawing milk for some of our farmers to the Edgerton creamery, says that the frost has not hurt his milk route yet. Charles Scofield and wife visited Milton friends Sunday. J. L. Chamberlain and wife are visiting their daughter, Mrs. C. Goodrich, near Ft. Atkinson. Mrs. J. L. Stewart of Fulton, and two children, visited Mrs. Stewart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Call last Friday. R. N. Johnson is recovering from his illness.

SHOPIERE TREES FROST-BITTEN.

Leaves in The Walnut Trees Look As If They Had Been Burned.

SHOPIERE, May 21—The walnut trees show the effect of the late frosts the most of all. They look as if a fire had been over them. Jesse Manley and wife from Chicago are visiting other relatives in this place. Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Kemmerer are rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing boy baby on Sunday last. Mrs. Hawley from Chicago, daughter of John Cronenberg of Clinton, buried her little boy in Shopiere cemetery on Sunday, May 19. He died very suddenly at his father's home on Saturday morning. C. H. Weirick has been putting up a telephone from his store to his house. Milton Doty from Brodhead is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bostwick for a few days. Miss Sherman from Chicago, daughter of Samuel Sherman, formerly of this place, is visiting Mrs. Richard Eddy. She came out from Chicago on horse back. Mr. Howarth from Clinton preached in the M. E. church on Sunday last.

THE GOSSIP OF THE CITY.

It isn't our customers that we are out after. They have tested our methods of doing the shoe business and are satisfied. They are convinced that quality for quality and price for price, we cannot be beaten. It's the other fellow we want—the party who isn't satisfied, or the economical buyer who has to make the dollars reach out as far as possible. These are the people as well as the folks who want up to now goods, that don't crave for plunder. These are the people we are fishing for. Brown Brothers & Lincoln.

It is safe to say that we never enjoyed as great a business as we have in the past sixty days. No such values in shoes have ever been given in the town, and it did not take the people long to find it out. When the best shoes made, no scrubs, are sold at 50 cents on the dollar, it means something; and the meaning can be found by watching the throng that daily comes to our store. Every pair guaranteed; also a fit; 50 cents on the dollar. Becker & Woodruff.

We guarantee the Henney buggy to be first class in every respect. Therefore, you run no chances, as you would in buying an inferior job. Always look for that little plate on rear of the buggy. If you find none, make up your mind it is a (bum) job. If there should be one, know the reputation of the speaker before purchasing. Should it read Henney, you would make no mistake in purchasing. F. A. Taylor.

An old story, but so good will bear repeating. We bought a stock of shoes in Fond du Lac, the Venne stock, sold part of it there, but brought the most of it here, $12,000 and put in with our stock of $18,000 making in all the largest stock of shoes in the town, and offer the entire lot to you at 50 cents on the dollar. The best makes in the world are here, no scrubs, all shoes we guarantee. Becker & Woodruff.

When it comes to selling clothing at a low price we're going to be strictly in it this season. By a great effort we propose to sell $25,000 worth this summer. Sale opens in the morning. Spring overcoats that sell regularly for $10 to $18 go at $6. A general cut all along the line. Frank Baack.

SHREWD buyers always buy the best, it is the cheapest. We call your attention to the Henney buggy. It is the best, therefore it is the cheapest. We have many handsome styles to select from, and we invite the public in general to look them over. It is a pleasing sight to see so many handsome rigs on our floor. F. A. Taylor.

Our demands are modest. We don't care to sell 200 or 300 pairs of shoes in a day. Just two or three dozen pairs will suit us. Although we haven't a bankrupt stock we're selling regular made shoes just as cheap, and guarantee every pair, as we propose to stay in the shoe business. Lloyd & Son.

We have as fine a line of millinery as ever was shown in any town and the price is right. We insure you the best for the least money at all times. Most all the stylish hats you see on the street are from our head trimmer. M. A. Morrissey & Co.

MEN's patent leather shoes Banister's make in 5, 5½, 6, 6½ are to be placed on the altar today and sacrificed at 75 cents apiece, $1.50 a pair. Come on, come on, get a pair while you can. No plunder sale is within a row of apple trees of our prices. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

On the corner of River and pleasant streets, you will find the finest line of carriages in the state of Wisconsin, not excepting Milwaukee. That may seem saying a good deal, but nevertheless it is true, as we carry Henney's best goods. F. A. Taylor.

Our styles of hats and the trimming is praised every day. No such fine work is shown elsewhere in this town. As soon as we show a lady and she learns the price, she says at once, "I'll take that." M. A. Morrissey & Co.

Those attending the Caledonian social on Friday evening, will be entertained by Professor John C. Dow, a graduate of Glasgow University, and an excellent Scottish vocalist and elocutionist. Those who do not attend will miss a treat.

You are not doing yourself justice if you don't come in and look our stock over. It will cost you nothing to look, and we know we can save you one half on every dollar you spend. 50 cents on the dollar goes. Becker & Woodruff.

$25,000 worth of tailor-made clothing to be sacrificed and we guarantee to fit anybody. No difference what sized man comes to us. The harder to fit the better we like you to come. Frank Baack.

If you can't find the shoe you want here, we don't think you can find it at all, as we have $30,000 worth to select from, and we offer you all the different makes known to the world, at 50 cents on the dollar. Becker & Woodruff.

We will meet any price named by any shoe merchant in this town and beat it. All regular made shoes, bought direct from the factory and guaranteed. Lloyd & Son.

SPRING overcoat sale in the morning, all late styles, meltons, worsteds, kerseys, 26, net a coat in the lot worth less than $10. Frank Baack.

For all the very latest styles in spring millinery at the lowest possible prices please call at M. A. Morrissey & Co's., on the bridge.

The shoes we sell at 95 cents are beauties. No such values elsewhere in this town. Lloyd & Son.

NEW DRIVE PLANNED IN THE THIRD WARD

SHADY BOULEVARD LIKELY TO BE OPENED.

Runs From The Fair Grounds North, Parallel With Milton Avenue—Display and Drinking Fountain Figured On—May Extend Fifth Avenue Out To Benton Avenue.

Real estate agents insist that Janesville property is more valuable than any man's gold mine and that business will be good this season. The town has been spreading in all directions and improvements that enhance the property affected are constantly being made. Ever since the steady growth of the Second and Third wards in the direction of the fair grounds set in a new boulevard running the same direction as Milton avenue has been talked of. The plans have been discussed pro and con, until now, it looks like a sure thing. The proposed street begins on the north side of the fair grounds, on the J. C. Jenkins tract of land, and will run directly north. The route has already been surveyed and the right of way has been secured a part of the way. The street will be four rods wide and over four hundred beautiful trees, which were set out by Mr. Jenkins in 1860, will run in the center of the street a part of the distance. The new street will open up hundreds of lots in that vicinity which will soon be put upon the market.

New Display Fountain.

A new ornament will soon be built in the Third ward, at the intersection of St. Mary's, Garfield and Pauline avenues. The three streets now form a triangle at this point and a handsome drinking and display fountain will soon be located there. It will be built by G. A. Proctor, J. C. Jenkins and W. T. Vankirk, who own the property and plans have already been received from a Milwaukee iron firm. The fountain, they expect, will be put in position this summer.

A number of owners of subdivisions in the out-skirts of the city have had plenty of chances to sell to parties who would erect cheap dwellings, but they prefer not to sell, hoping for a better class of houses to be built.

There is a strong agitation in favor of extending Fifth avenue to Benton avenue, the same as Caroline and Cornelia street now run. The right of way is all promised, with the exception of one owner and the new road is said to be a thing of the near future.

The masons have begun work on the Gilbert Evenson home at No. 18 Milton avenue.

The foundation for the New Palmer hospital is about completed, and the carpenters will soon take hold.

In the Past

A good many jokes have been elaborated--at the expense of druggist--on account of his supposed large profits. The above little clipping from the great New York Herald may be taken as an indication that the press and the public are beginning to see the question in another light. We could write volumes on the subject, but perhaps you would not wade through them. This, however we will assert here:-- The drug store is the proper place to get anything in the drug line, and we can prove that our prices are as low and our goods as good as anywhere else in town. And we do not try to prove this by advertising "draws" at cost; and under with some article from somebody else's line of business. Here are two of our own lines suitable for present moments.

THE OFFICIAL CITY PAPER.

THE COTTON MILL STRIKE.

The action of the cotton mill employees will be generally regretted. That strikes should sometimes occur is natural, but that they should occur this year, when, after an era of stagnation and business depression unparalleled in the history of the country, the first dawn of better days is scarcely visible, is one of the unaccountable mysteries.

It is generally conceded, in the light of the last two years' experience, that work-half the time is better than no work, and that reduced wages are better than no wages. It is a mistaken theory that capital oppresses labor. Were it not for capital, and the wise investment of it, labor in shops and factories would be an unknown quantity. It is perhaps natural for the man who toils with his hands to feel at times that the man or corporation who furnishes him the means of employment is a hard master, and a spirit of envy and covetousness readily finds root in the discontented soil, and yet it is true that this feeling is abnormal and unhealthy, and when left to sober second thought, as it is on the farm or the smaller workshops of the country, it readily yields to better judgment and wiser action. In the cities and at the large manufacturing centres, this spirit once engendered, spreads and magnifies, until the hardships, real and imaginary, crystallize in organized strikes and labor disturbances. As a result, factories close and a long season of idleness and suffering follow. Organized labor frequently overlooks the fact that the money that builds factories and supports manufacturing industries belong to people who commenced life at the bottom of the ladder, and by hard work and strict economy accumulated a surplus to invest in a business in which they had confidence, instead of such an investment with all the attending risk, and frequent loss, they might have continued at the bench, and laid away the savings in government bonds or other securities, benefiting no one but themselves, yet free from all responsibility or anxiety. But a spirit of enterprise and a desire to make money, which is always commendable, prompted them to transfer the manual labor to other hands, and calling into exercise that other faculty called the brain, they made the investment, and became the employer instead of the employee. With the transfer came a new legacy of labor, more exhausting and in many instances less profitable.

The man who stands behind the desk elected by a corporation as manager, and held responsible for the success or failure of an industry, has done more hard work during the past two years than he was ever called upon to do before in five, and in thousands of instances he has gone down under the pressure of business defeat and failure.

Organized labor theoretically, is all right; it may be right in practice, if wisely managed. The desire to improve the conditions of labor should always be encouraged; intelligence, thrift, industry, morality and happiness are topics that every organization can profitably discuss, but when organized labor assumes to dictate or control the management of industries, it has gone a step too far, and has everything to lose, and nothing to gain.

The Janesville cotton mills represent an industry that is for the first time brought in competition, with the pauper labor of Europe. During the panic of '93 and for months after, the industry was paralyzed and the old world commenced to flood us with goods, under the new order of events American mills readjusted themselves and are now making a brave fight against foreign competition to hold the home trade. They will win in time, because America knows nothing about failure, but during the struggle, capital will be sacrificed, and labor will suffer. The Fall River mills and mills of their class, equipped with modern inventions regardless of cost or expense, will contest every inch of the ground, and drive back foreign competition. The smaller mills scattered over the country, are not so well prepared for the contest and they will do well to hold their own.

Democracy is responsible for these conditions. Organized labor will do well to stay by their industries and turn their guns on the democratic party.

COUNTY TAX SALE DREW A BIG CROWD

BIDDING WAS LIVELY AT TREASURER NYE'S OFFICE.

Generally the First Bidder Got the Property and as a Rule a Small Fraction Was Sufficient to Close the Deal—The Sale Lasted All Day.

There were some lively scenes and considerable excitement in County Treasurer Nye's office today, the occasion being the sale of Rock county lands for unpaid state and county taxes for the year 1894. Much of the time there was a large number of people present, some to look after personal interests in certain tracts of land to be sold, others as mere idle spectators, and few regular speculators, eager to bid in every parcel offered. The sale opened in the morning at 10 o'clock, and was not concluded until late this afternoon. In the morning the bidding among the speculators was quite spirited. Parcels were bid down in a number of instances to a small fractional part of the original, in fact some were cut down so that an ordinary blanket would be ample protection from a May frost.

At noon Treasurer Nye adjourned the sale until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and on reassembling it was noticed that the crowd had been considerably reduced in numbers, and that the speculators were not so anxious to bid against each other. Even held a copy of The Gazette, containing the advertisement of the property to be sold, and the strife appeared to be in the ability of the speculator in getting in the first bid, the tract being generally sold on the first offer without opposition. When the city of Janesville was reached there seemed to be another turn in the bidding, a large number of parties held interests in the property, and those who made this fact known were not opposed in obtaining the tax certificates. It was 3 o'clock before Treasurer Nye concluded the sale, when he straightened up and said: "Gentlemen that concludes the list," whereupon he took a long breath and closed his book.

COULDN'T SETTLE ON A SEWER

Third Ward People Did Not Reach a Decision Last Night.

Third ward people assembled in the court house again last evening to discuss the sewer problem, but without reaching any definite conclusion. It was found that sentiment had not concentrated in any particular street so they could not adopt any fixed plan. Some wanted a sewer on Court street; others on South Second, South Third, and still others Court down to Wisconsin, thence to East Milwaukee, and on that street to the river, while others wanted to leave Court street at Jackson, thence to Milwaukee avenue, and East Milwaukee to the river. After diverting into a discussion of the sewer question and the income tax the discussion of sewerage was resumed by a proposition to petition the common council to construct a sewer to accommodate the Jefferson school building. It was claimed that the health officer might be instructed to examine the cess pools at this building, in which event he would declare them a public nuisance, and then the necessity for the construction of a sewer be shown with moral force. The special committee will continue their investigation until some practicable plan is hit upon.

MISS ANNA BALKEY SURPRISED

Very Pleasant Social Event At the Home of C. Carpenter.

A very pleasant social event occurred last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Carpenter on West Bluff street. It was a surprise party for Miss Anna Balkey, and it proved to be a most enjoyable event. During the evening Miss Balkey was presented with a handsome gold ring, for which she expressed thanks in a feeling way. Tables were loaded down with refreshments, and after supper, cards and music occupied the rest of the evening, and those present were:

HAY TOOL COMPANY WIN THEIR FIGHT

THE JANESVILLE CORPORATION
BEAT JOHN H. BOYD.

United State Supreme Court Holds That the Bower City Firm Are the Owners of the Patents In Dispute and Manufacturers Must Pay Them Royalty For Using the Same.

Stockholders in the Janesville Hay Tool Company are highly elated over the decision of the supreme court, affirming the decision of the Wisconsin court in the case of John H. Boyd against the Janesville Hay Tool Company.

Stock in the Hay Tool Company doubled in price on account of this decision, and the holders of interest in that company W. T. Vankirk, president; F. C. Cook, vice president; A. H. Sheldon, secretary and treasurer and F. B. Strickler superintendent and manager, who own all the stock, are smiling all over today.

The case involved a number of patents used by the Hay Tool Company in their hay carriers, they being claimed as infringements by Boyd and others, who brought suit against the local company to cover damages and royalty. The case has been in litigation for some years, it being appealed from the circuit court, until it finally reached the highest tribunal in the country, and the decision of the lower courts being affirmed, giving the patent to the Janesville company.

Nearly all the manufacturers of Hay Tool machinery in the country were using this or a similar device, in the manufacture of haying machines and under this ruling these manufacturers will be compelled to pay a royalty on each machine made, to the Janesville company.

John H. Boyd of Illinois, claimed to be the inventor or owner of the patents, he being put forward by the litigants to fight the Janesville Hay Tool Company in the courts. The defense was on the claim that P. G. Strickler of this city was the inventor of the machinery in question and the local company was the owner of the patents which claim the supreme court has sustained.

"Feel good? Well, I should think I do feel good," said President W. T. Vankirk this morning, after being informed of the decision. "Stock in the Janesville Hay Tool Company is now worth just double what it was before. It is the best stock in the market and there is none for sale."

CYCLING CLUB TO INCORPORATE

The Final Steps On That Line Were Taken Last Evening.

The Arrow Cycling club last night took the final steps toward the incorporating of that body, the articles, drawn up by J. L. Mahoney being submitted to the members and unanimously adopted. The articles provide for the election of a president, two vice presidents, recording secretary, financial secretary, treasurer and a board of directors. The articles of incorporation will be filed with Register of Deeds O. D. Rowe and in the office of the secretary of state.

Twenty-seven members were admitted to membership, four of them, O. H. Brand, J. C. Bartholf, J. C. Wilmarth and Joseph Mahoney being honorary. Mr. Mahoney's election was in the form of a graceful compliment to him, he having composed a very catchy two-step which he dedicated to the club under the title of the "Arrow Club Two-step."

It being necessary that someone should sleep in the house to keep the insurance good, it was decided to hire a janitor and the matter was referred to a committee composed of Dr. C. T. Peirce and F. P. King. No extra keys will be issued and that, together with the insurance conditions makes the securing of a janitor imperative. The medal for the most miles was withdrawn, the interest shown not justifying the expense. It was also decided that a piano be rented instead of a billiard table and a vote of thanks was tendered the committee on the selection and furnishing of the club house. It is expected that ladies will be admitted as honorary members in the near future, and when the club adjourned it was to meet on Tuesday evening of next week.

NOW GREEN BAY CROWS OVER US

They Contrast Their Business Men's Association with Ours.

The Green Bay Advocate exults over Janesville in this wise: "In Janesville the Business Men's Association has wound up its affairs and lapsed into 'innocuous desuetude,' owing to the fact that its members did not or could not pay their dues. There is a difference in cities. Here the association is growing, with a comfortable balance in the treasury. But then it means something to be a business man in Green Bay."

THE MASONS HAD A JOLLY TIME

Deputy Grand Master Perry's Visit to the Janesville Lodges.

Janesville Master Masons enjoyed a treat yesterday afternoon and evening. The occasion was the visit of Deputy Grand Master W. W. Perry, of Eagle, who exemplified the work of the Master degree, both afternoon and evening. In the evening two hundred or more members of the order visited Masonic hall, it being one of the largest meetings ever held in the city. A banquet followed the exemplification of the work, and the social part of the work did not conclude until nearly midnight. A number of visitors from abroad were present, among whom were: Joseph Creighton, J. H. Creighton, J. H. Calvert, Whitewater; E. J. Hooper, Palmyra; O. B. Rogers, Dr. O. S. Crawford, B. Winnie, East Troy; W. O. Roberts, H. Erridge, H. G. Jones, Oconomowoc; W. W. Perry, Eagle; A. C. Whitford, Beloit; Bro. Merrifield, Button, Jones, Evans, Milton Junction.

Important Notice.

We cordially solicit the people in general to call upon us. We will start in the morning the greatest clothing sale ever opened in this city, prices lower than the bankrupt prices, and goods all regular bought. Just to show you that we mean business we have put seventy-five spring overcoats on sale at $6 each, all the latest styles in meltons, kerseys and worsteds, not a coat in the lot worth less than $6.00 and many cost $12.50. We would like to have those people who have had hard work to get fitted in a ready made clothing store heretofore to step in. We are giving particular attention to this class of people and guarantee to fit any sized boy or man and will sell at the slaughter sale price. Come in and look around. If we can't "suit" you will treat you courteously. Sale opens in the morning. Frank Back.

SCRAPS FROM THE DIAMOND.

AN unusually long game of ball was played on Bunker Hill in which the North End Juniors defeated the Stars by the phenomenal score of 50 to 25. Ward and O'Grady were the battery of the Juniors while Holloway & Johnson played the points for the Stars.

THE Silver Horns defeated Penny Lutz's Colts by a score of 11 to 8. The batteries were Minnehan and Dorsey for the Silver Horns and Lutz and Buggs for the Colts.

THE Western Avenue Quicksteps defeated the Arrow street Hoodoos by a score of 18 to 11. The feature of the game was Herman Shultz's base running.

DROPPED THE CASE AGAINST MATHENY

ONE CHAPTER OF THE FAMILY
ROW NOW FINISHED.

Plaintiff Paid the Costs—Two Janesville Men Abuse a Horse at Beloit and Are Fined For It—Police Have a Sad Case In Hand—Other Constabulary Notes.

The municipal court end of the Sherwood-Matheny difficulty was sawed off short this morning when the case was called before Judge Phelps, and the plaintiff moved to dismiss the case the costs being taxed to the plaintiff. This was one chapter in the town of Bradford family quarrel. Matheny first brought suit in Justice Prichard's court to recover the sum of $125 claimed to be due him for labor on the farm of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Sherwood. Then Mrs. Sherwood secured a warrant in the municipal court and had Matheny arrested on charge of assault and battery, her sixteen year old daughter, Julia A. Sherwood, being brought in as the victim of the assault. In Justice Prichard's court, it will be remembered, the jury found a verdict in favor of Matheny, in the sum of $81.50. This case has been appealed to the circuit court.

Abused a Horse.

The Beloit Daily News says, "Ben Cooper and Fred Hill, two Janesville sports after soaking up with rock and rye drove to Beloit yesterday afternoon, arriving here at 2:30. While they were driving about the city the abuse of their horse attracted the attention of Officer Kerwin, of the Humane society, who at once arrested and jailed them. About 8 o'clock last night the two animal abusers were taken before Police Justice Booth and fined, both pleading guilty. Ben Cooper was fined $7 and cost, which amounted to $9.50, and Fred Hill $7. Officer Kerwin telephoned to Livernyman Ames that his horse was in Beloit. Mr. Ames came down on the 7 o'clock train and took his horse back to Janesville last night." Neither of the names given can be found on the Janesville directory, so they were probably assumed ones.

A Young Mother Deserted

The authorities have been called upon to act in a sad case, it being that of a forsaken mother whose struggle to provide for herself and her one year old infant has been a hard one. Just what can be done in the matter has not yet been decided, but Postmaster Kenyon will probably take the case in hand.

Two crooks arrived in the city this afternoon from Beloit. They were following the Lemon Brothers' circus, and were arrested by Sheriff Appleby yesterday in the Line City.

A lively fight took place at the corner of North Main and North First streets last night between two farmers who reside in the town of Janesville. In the midst of the scrimmage the police showed up, and put both pugilists in jail. They gave the names of James Smith and Joseph Melville.

Patrick Mulcairns, alias "Redhorse" is now "doing time" at the common jail of the county, his contract with Sheriff Appleby being made for a sixty day term. The police gathered "Redhorse" in yesterday, while he was wrecking the furniture at his mother's home. He was charged with being a common drunkard when arraigned in court, and Judge Phelps sentenced him to serve two months.

Mrs. Nora Dulin pleaded guilty to drunk and disorderly conduct this morning when arraigned in the municipal court, and after giving her a severe lecture, Judge Phelps sent her to the Appleby home for inebriates for one day.

SUNDAY'S SERMON BY DR. TALMAGE

A POWERFUL PLEA FOR PRACTICAL CHRISTIANITY.

"Wing and Hand," the Text Being Ezekiel 10:21—The Likeness of the Hands of a Man Was Under Their Wings.

WING tossed on the sea between Australia and Ceylon, I first particularly noticed this text, of which then and there I made memoranda. This chapter is all a flutter with cherubim. Who are the cherubim? An order of angels radiant, all-knowing, adoring, worshipping. When painter or sculptor tried in temple at Jerusalem or in marble of Egypt to represent the cherubim, he made them part lion, or part ox, or part eagle. But much of that is an unintended burlesque of the cherubim, whose majesty and speed and splendor we will never know until lifted into their presence we behold them for ourselves, as I pray by the pardoning grace of God we may. But all the accounts Biblical, and all the suppositions human, represent the cherubim with wings, each wing about seven feet long, vaster, more imposing than any plumage that ever floated in earthly atmosphere. Conder in flight above Chimborazo, or Rocky Mountain, easily aiming for the noonday sun, or albatross in play with ocean tempest, presents no such glory. We can get an imperfect idea of the wing of cherubim by the only wing we see—the bird's pinion—which is the arm of the bird, but in some respects more wondrous than the human arm; with power of making itself more light, or more heavy; of expansion and contraction; defying all altitudes and all abysses; the bird looking down with pity upon boasting man as he toils up the sides of the Adirondacks, while the wing with a few strokes puts the highest crags far beneath claw and beak. But the bird's wing is only a feeble suggestion of cherubim's wing. The greatness of that, the rapidity of that, the radiance of that, the Bible again and again sets forth.

My attention is not more attracted by those wings than by what they reveal when lifted. In two places in Ezekiel we are told there were hands under the wings; human hands; hands like ours: "The likeness of the hands of a man was under the wings." We have all noticed the wing of the cherubim, but no one seems yet to have noticed the human hand under the wing. There are whole sermons, whole anthems, whole doxologies, whole millenniums in that combination of hand and wing. If this world is ever brought to God, it will be by appreciation of the fact that supernatural and human agencies are to go together; that which soars, and that which practically works; that which ascends the heavens, and that which reaches forth to earth; the joining of the terrestrial and the celestial; the hand and the wing. We see this union in the construction of the Bible. The wing of inspiration is in every chapter. What realms of the ransomed earth did Isaiah fly over? Over what battlefields for righteousness; what coronations; what dominions of gladness; what rainbows around the throne did St. John hover? But in every book of the Bible you just as certainly see the human hand that wrote it. Moses, the lawyer, showing his hand in the Ten Commandments, the foundation of all good legislation. Amos, the herdsman, showing his hand in similes drawn from fields and flocks; the fishermen apostles showing their hand when writing about Gospel nets; Luke, the physician, showing his hand by giving especial attention to diseases cured; Paul showing his scholarly hand by quoting from heathen poets, and making arguments about the resurrection that stand as firmly as on the day he planted them; and St. John shows his hand by taking his imagery from the appearance of the bright waters spread around the Island of Patmos at hour of sunset, when he speaks of the sea of glass mingled with fire, secrets of hands writing the parables, the miracles, the promises, the hosannas, the raptures, the consolations, the woes of ages. Oh, the Bible is so human; so full of heart-beats; so sympathetic; so wet with tears; so triumphant with palm branches; that it takes hold of the human race as nothing else ever can take hold of it—each writer in his own style; Job, the scientist; Solomon, the royal-blooded; Jeremiah, the despondent; Daniel, the abstemious and heroic—why, we know their style so well that we need not look to the top of the page to see who is the author. No more conspicuous the uplifting wing of inspiration than the hand, the warm hand, the flexible hand, the skillful hand of human instrumentality. "The likeness of the hands of a man was under the wings."

Again, behold this combination of my text in all successful Christian work. We stand or kneel in our pulpits, and social meetings, and reformatory associations, offering prayer. Now, if anything has wings, it is prayer. It can fly farther and faster than anything I can now think of. In one second of time from where you sit it can fly to the throne of God and alight in England. In one second of time from where you sit it can fly to the throne of God and alight in India. It can girdle the earth in a shorter time than you can seal a letter, or clasp a belt, or hook an eye. Wings, whether that prayer starts from an infant's tongue or the trembling lip of a centenarian, rising from the heart of a farmer's wife standing at the dashing churn, or before the hot breath of a country oven, they soar away, and pick out all the shipping on the earth, on all seas, the craft on which her sailor boy is voyaging. Yea, prayer can fly clear down into the future. When the father of Queen Victoria was dying he asked that the infant Victoria might be brought while he sat up in bed; and the babe was brought, and the father prayed: "If this child should live to become queen of England, may she rule in the fear of God!" Having ended his prayer, he said: "Take the child away." But all who know the history of England for the last fifty years know that the prayer for that infant more than seventy years ago has been answered, and with what emphasis and affection millions of the queen's subjects have this day in chapels and cathedrals, on land and sea, supplicated

"God save the Queen!" Prayer flies not only across continents, but across centuries. If prayer had only feet, it might run here and there and do wonders. But it has wings, and they are as radiant as plume, and as swift to rise, or swoop, or dart, or circle, as the cherubim's wings which swept through Ezekiel's vision. But, oh, my friends, the prayer must have the hand under the wing, or it may amount to nothing. The mother's hand, or the father's hand, must write to the wayward boy as soon as you can hear how to address him. Christian souls must contribute to the evangelism of that far-off land for which they have been praying. Stop singing "Fly abroad, thou mighty Gospel," unless you are willing to give something of your own means to make it fly. Have you been praying for the salvation of a young man's soul? That is right; but also extend the hand of invitation to come to a religious meeting. It always excites our sympathy to see a man with his hand in a sling. We ask him: "What is the matter? Hope it is not a felon's; or, 'Have your fingers been crushed?'" But nine out of ten of all Christians are going their life-long with their hand in a sling. They have been hurt by indifference, or wrong ideas of what is best; or it is injured of conventionality; and they never put forth that hand to lift, or help, or rescue any one. They pray, and their prayer has wings, but there is no hand under the wings. From the very structure of the hand we might make up our mind as to some of the things it was made for; to hold fast, to lift, to push, to pull, to help, and to rescue. And endowed with two hands, we might take the broad hint that for others as well as for ourselves we were to hold fast, to lift, to push, to pull, to help, to rescue. Wondrous hand! You know something of the "Bridgewater Treatises." When Rev. Francis Henry Bridgewater in his will left $40,000 for essays on "The Power, Wisdom and Goodness of God, as Manifested in the Creation," and Davies Gilbert, the president of the Royal Society, chose eight persons to write eight books, Sir Charles Bell, the scientist, chose as the subject of his great book: "The Hand; its Mechanism and Vital Endowments as Evincing Design." Oh, the hand! Its machinery beginning at the shoulder, and working through shafts of bone, upper arm and forearm, down to the eight bones of the wrist, and the five bones of the palm, and the fourteen bones of the fingers and thumb, and composed of a labyrinth of muscle and nerve, and artery, and flesh, which no one but Almighty God could have planned or executed. But how suggestive when it reached down to us from under the wings of the cherubim! "The likeness of the hands of a man was under the wings."

This idea is combined in Christ. When he rose from Mt. Olivet, he took wing. All up and down his life you see the uplifting divinity. It glowed in his forehead. It flashed in his eyes, its cadences were heard in his voice. But he was also very human. It was the hand under the wing that touched the woes of the world, and took hold of the sympathies of the centuries. Watch his hand before it was spiked. There was a dead girl in the governor's house, and Christ comes into the room and takes her pale, cold hand in his warm grasp, and she opens her eyes on the weeping household, and says, "Father, what are you crying about? Mother, what are you crying about?" The book says, "He took her by the hand, and the maid arose." A follower, angered at an insult offered Christ, drew the sword from sheath and struck at a man with the sharp edge, aiming, I think, at his forehead. But the weapon glanced aside and took off the right ear at its roots. Christ with his hand reconstructed that wonderful organ of sound, that whispering gallery of the soul, that collector of vibrations, that arched without which all the musical instruments of earth would be of no avail. The book says, "He touched his ear and healed him." Meeting a full-grown man who had never seen a sunrise, or a sunset, or a flower, or the face of his own father or mother, Christ moistens the dust from his own tongue, and stirs the dust into an eye-salve, and with his own hands applies the strange medication, and suddenly all the colors of earth and sky rush in upon the newly created optic nerve, and the instantaneous noon drove out the long night. When he sees the grief of Mary and Martha, he sits down and cries with them. Some day it is the shortest verse in the Bible; but to me it seems, because of its far-reaching sympathies, about the largest—"Jesus wept!" So very human. He could not stand the sight of drowsy, or epileptic, or paralytic, or hunger, or dementia; but he stretches out his sympathetic hand to ward it. So very, very human. Omnipotent, and majestic, and glorious, this angel of the new covenant, with wings capable of encircling a universe, and yet hands of gentleness, hands of helpfulness. "The hands of a man under the wings." There is a kind of religion in our day that my text rebukes. There are men and women spending their time in delectation over their saved state, going about from prayer-meeting to prayer-meeting, and from church to church, telling how happy they are. But show them a subscription paper, or ask them to go and visit the sick, or tell them to reclaim a wanderer, or speak out for some unpopular Christian enterprise, and they have bronchitis, or stitch in the side, or sudden attack of gripe. Their religion is all wing, and no hand. They can fly heavenward, but they cannot reach out earthward.

In our time it is the habit to denounce the cities, and to speak of them as the perdition of all wickedness. Is it not time for some one to tell the other side of the story and to say that the city is the heaven of practical helpfulness? Look at the embowered and fountained parks, where the invalids may come and be refreshed; the Bowery mission, through which annually over 100,000 come to get bread for this life, and bread for the life to come, all the pillars of that institution under the blessing of Him who had not where to lay his head; the free schools, where the most impoverished are educated; the hospitals for broken bones; the homes for the restoration of intellects astray; the orphan house, father and mother to all who come under its benediction; the midnight missions, which pour mid-noon upon the darkened; the prison reform association; the houses of mercy; the infirmaries; the sheltering arms, the aid societies; the industrial schools; the sailors' snug harbor; the founding asylums; the free dispensaries, where greatest scientific skill feels the pulse of man pauper; the ambulance, the startling stroke of its bell clearing the way to the place of casualty; and good souls like the mother who came to the Howard mission, with its crown of friendless boys picked up from the streets, and saying, "If you have a crippled boy, give him to me; my dear boy died with the spinal complaint," and such an one she found and took him home and nursed him till he was well. It would take a sermon three weeks long to do justice to the mighty things which our cities are doing for the unfortunate and the lost. Do not say that Christianity in our cities is all show, and talk, and genuflection, and sacred noise. You have been so long looking at the hand of cruelty, and the hand of theft, and the hand of fraud, and the hand of outrage, that you have not sufficiently appreciated the hand of help, stretched forth from the doors and windows of churches, and from merciful institutions, the Christ-like hand, the cherub hand, "the hand under the wings."

There is also in my subject the suggestion of rewarded work for God and righteousness. When the wing went the hand went. When the wing ascended the hand ascended; and for every useful and Christian hand there will be elevation celestial and eternal. Expect no human gratitude, for it will not come. That was a wise thing Fenelon wrote to his friend: "I am very glad, my dear, good fellow, that you are pleased with one of my letters which has been shown to you. You are right in saying and believing that I ask little of men in general. I try to do much for them and to expect nothing in return. I find a decided advantage in these terms. On these terms I defy them to disappoint me." But, my hearers, the day cometh when your work, which perhaps no one has noticed, or rewarded, or honored, will rise to heavenly recognition. While I have been telling you that the hand was under the wing of the cherubim, I want you to realize that the wing was over the hand. Perhaps reward may not come to you right away. Washington lost more battles than he won, but he triumphed at the last. Walter Scott, in boyhood, was called "The Greek Blockhead"; but what height of renown did he not afterward tread? And I promise you victory further on and higher up; if not in this world, then in the next. Oh, the heavenly day when your lifted hand shall be gloved with what honors, its fingers enringed with what jewels, its wrist clasped with what splendors! Come up and take it, you Christian woman, who served at the wash tub. Come up and take it, you Christian shoemaker, who pounded the shoe-last. Come up and take it, you professional nurse, whose compensation never fully paid for broken nights and the whims and struggles of delicious sick-rooms. Come up and take it, you fireman, besweated, far down amid the greasy machinery of ocean steamers, and yet conductors and engineers on railroads, that knew no Sunday, and whose ringing bells and loud whistle never warned off your own anxieties. Come up and take it, you mothers, who rocked and lulled the family brood until they took wing for other nests, and never appreciated what you had done and suffered for them. Your hand was well favored when you were young, and it was a beautiful hand, so well rounded, so graceful that many admired and eulogized it; but hard work calloused it, and twisted it, and self-sacrificing toil for others paled it, and many household griefs thinned it, and the ring which went on only with a push at the marriage altar, now is too large, and falls off, and again and again you have lost it. Poor hand! Weary hand! Worn-out hand! But God will reconstruct it, reanimate it, readorn it, and all heaven will know the story of that hand. What fallen ones it lifted up! What tears it wiped away! What wounds it banded! What lighthouses it kindled! What storm-tossed ships it brought in to the pearl-beached harbor! Oh, I am so glad that in the vision of my text, Ezekiel saw the wing above the hand. Roll on that everlasting rest for all the toiling, and misunderstood, and suffering, and weary children of God, and know right well that to join your hand, at last emancipated from the struggle, will be the soft hand, the gentle hand the triumphant hand of Him who wipeth away all tears from all faces. That will be the palace of the king of which the poet sang in somewhat Scotch dialect:

It's a bonnie, bonnie war! that we're livin' in the noo,
An' sunny is the lan' we aften traivel thro';
But in vain we look for something to which our hearts can cling,
For its beauty is as nothing to the palace of the king.

We see our friends await us over yonder at his gate:
Then let us a' be ready, for ye ken it's gettin' late;
Let our lamps be brightly burnin'; let's raise our voice an' sing:
Soon we'll meet, to part nae mair, i' the palace of the king.

"MY FOOD DOES ME NO GOOD."

In any city there are many possible ways to travel from one place to another. But between the food on your table and its destination in the body there is only one road directly through the stomach. There is no going around the stomach or forcing a passage through it. Here the food is detained a while for better or for worse. Here it must be digested—that is to say, changed, liquefied, and assimilated for assimilation; or, failing that, it must lie here and rot, and go to poisonous principles which enter the blood and set up a diseased action throughout the system. This is indigestion or dyspepsia—the condition that exists when a person says, "My food does me no good."

Certainly not. How can it? The more he eats the more he suffers. The road is blocked. No use putting more grain in the hopper when the mill cannot grind. Here are some of Nature's protests: Loss of appetite; distress after eating; heartburn; palpitation; flashes of heat and cold; the rising of rancorous acids and gases into the throat; furred tongue; dull and aching head; pains in the chest and back, weariness, fatigue and worry; loss of sleep; cold hands and feet; yellowish eyes and skin; weakness and trembling; constipation; failure of nerve force and courage, etc., etc. Out of this seething block in the stomach may come a dozen local complaints—a common form of pseudo-cancer springing among them. Yet you must eat or starve. Miserable dilemma.

Dietary measures won't do. Take a very little nourishment at first and gradually after a dose of the Shaker Digesting Cordial, the only radically effective remedy for indigestion or dyspepsia, prepared by the Shaker Community of Mt. Lebanon, N. Y. It will relieve at once and cure quickly. Made from cultivated medicinal herbs and plants grown by the Shakers. Pleasant to the taste, painless and harmless. Trial bottles ten cents. For sale by nearly all druggists.

The Difference.

THE BLUES.
Why do Women have the Blues more than Men?

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]
Are not women naturally as light-hearted, brave, and hopeful as men?
Yes; but woman's organism is different from man's.

Women in perfect or good health are rarely victims of this symptom.
Women nearly monopolize the blues, because their peculiar ailments promote them.
When the female organs fail to perform their functions properly, when the dreaded female complaints appear, there is nervousness, sleeplessness, faintness, backache, headache, bearing-down pains, etc., causing the dreaded "let-me-alone" and "all-gone" feelings.

When the woman does not understand what the matter is, and her doctor can not or will not tell her, she grows morose and melancholy; that's the blues.
Mrs. Newton Cobb, of Manchester, O., says: "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct all this trouble. I cannot praise it enough. I am pleased to tell every one that it cured me; and it will cure me, why not others? I am sure my case was severe enough." It will. Get it of your druggist at once.

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL NEWS

It's no trouble to get shoes cheap in Janesville now, almost any price can be had, but the main object is to get a good shoe. No use paying a big price or even a fair price for an old style or shop worn shoe when you can get the latest styles, and brand new shoes from the factory at a less price. Nobody is pretending to beat 50 cents on the dollar. We are actually selling the best shoes in the world at just half price. Becker & Woodruff.

Winslow & Lowell sold over $1,300 worth of shoes yesterday and Saturday. Today they are repeating the dose. In a very short time they will have 2,000 pairs of shoes direct from one of the best factories in the United States. They are having them made according to their ideas and they will sell them cheap.

On Wednesday morning we place on sale another great bargain. 70 pieces of challie worth 20 to 25 cents per yard all go at one uniform price of 9 cents per yard. The lot will go like hot cakes and if you want some of them don't put it off. Bort, Bailey & Co.

When you can make 50 cents do the work it required a dollar to do 60 days ago or even now outside our doors, isn't it worth your while to come to us? We'll put our time against yours and show you the stock. If you are not convinced that you save 50 cents on every dollar expended here we won't importune you to buy. Becker & Woodruff.

When we make a special offer, we make it a point to offer a good one, so that our friends will never be disappointed. Tomorrow we place on sale seventy pieces half wool challies, at nine cents per yard. The lot won't last long. Bort, Bailey & Co.

Seventy pieces half-wool challies will go on sale tomorrow morning at 9 cents a yard; regular 20 and 25 cent goods. When we cut, and that is all the time, we cut deep. Bort, Bailey & Co.

Why hesitate to come in and look. It's a fine line of spring wraps and they are being offered at half price. A look won't cost a cent. T. P. Burns.

The Richardson & Norcross make of shoes that we are selling for 95 cents are hummers, just as good as if they cost three times as much. We are saving you money on shoes. Winslow & Lowell.

Tomorrow morning we will put on sale 70 pieces of challie at 9 cents a yard. They are goods that are worth and sell regularly for 20 to 25 cents a yard. Bort Bailey & Co.

Some of the coal that is sold at the low price has been on the docks for the past ten years. When you want fresh coal look at ours. Janesville Coal Co.
